This cookie policy sits in line with Curaçao's National ordinance on data protection ("NODP"), the Dutch Telecommunications Act (Wet van 4 februari 2015 tot wijziging van de Telecommunicatiewet) ("TA") and the EU counterpart the Privacy and Electronic Communications Directive ("PECD") and should be read in line with our Privacy Policy. What are "cookies"?

"Cookies" are small text files that are stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive.

What are they used for?

We use cookies to learn more about the ways in which you interact with our content and to enable us to improve your experience when visiting our website. Cookies remember, for example, your language or preferences, which remain as default settings on a subsequent visit our website.

In addition, cookies enable us to offer you certain content on our website. We may use insights about your behavior on our website to send you targeted advertisements on third-party websites in an effort to remarket our products and services to you.

What cookies do we use?

Session cookies: We use "session cookies", which are only stored for the duration of the current visit to our online presence (e.g. in order to be able to save your login status or the shopping basket function and thus enable the use of our online offer at all). A randomly generated unique identification number, a so-called session ID, is stored in a session cookie. In addition, a cookie contains information about its origin and the storage period. These cookies cannot store any other data. Session cookies are deleted when you have finished using our website and log out or close the browser, for example.

Performance cookies: these cookies help us understand how visitors interact with our website by providing data about which websites or search terms bring users to our website, how long they typically stay on our website, or how many subpages they view on average. We use this data to improve the content of our website and to compile statistics for internal market analysis purposes about individual use of our website.

Functional cookies: these cookies allow our website to remember the choices you make (for example, your username, language, or the region you live in) to provide you with a more personalized online experience. They also allow you to watch videos and interact with social tools.

Analytical and Advertising cookies: Analytical and Advertising cookies are used by third parties. These cookies allow third parties to recognize that you have visited our website. We and our third-party providers may also combine information obtained from these cookies with personal data available from other sources, including data collected about you when you use other websites and data collected about you when you are offline, whether on our website or data maintained by the third-party provider.

The legal basis for the use of technically non-essential cookies (and the associated collection and processing of personal data) is your consent given voluntarily when you first visit our website as part of our cookie banner.

Cookie Policy

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. Your consent to the use of technically non-essential cookies and the associated processing of your personal data is not necessary for the use of our website, i.e., you can also use our website without technically non-essential cookies.
